

LAWMAKERS READY FOR DIAMOND FRAY AT NATIONALS' PARK

House Republicans and Democrats Line Up at 4 o'Clock Today.

Congressional obesity clothed in baseball togs will attempt agility, other than the political sort, when the Marine Band plays "Everybody's Doing It Now" at American League Park this afternoon, where the game between the Democrats and Republicans of the House of Representatives is to be staged. The opposing political parties of the House will fight to a finish, the proceeds going to the benefit of the playgrounds and the Boy Scouts of the District.

Though many persons prominent in the diplomatic and official life of the city will be present when Speaker Champ Clark throws out the ball, and Walter Johnson, the Nationals' star twirler, calls the game, the affair is by no means of a "society" caliber. The game will be called by "Tumps" Johnson at 4 o'clock. Speaker Clark, leaving the gavel to the Climbers' twirler to wield over the Congressmen for the rest of the afternoon.

The Democratic battery, consisting of Congressman Webb of North Carolina and Rouse of Kentucky, has plenty of speed. For the Republicans Congressman Miller and Anderson of Minnesota will do the pitching and catching, respectively.

Former Senator Lane's Birthday

The first United States Senator from Kansas, James Henry Lane, was born ninety-eight years ago today. He was a native of Indiana, but emigrated to Kansas at an early age, and saw some bloody warfare between the slavery and anti-slavery parties. At first his attitude in this intra-State conflict was undecided. He was a member of the two rival Constitutional conventions that met at Leavenworth and Topeka. He cast in his lot with the Free State party after due consideration, and in 1856 was elected United States Senator, but was debarred from his seat.

He was the chief commander of the Free State forces in the border war, and was tried for high treason, and also for murder, by the pro-slavery government, but was acquitted. He became United States Senator in 1861, but failed in health and committed suicide while temporarily insane in 1866.

Mrs. Lockwood Wants Woman as President

The proposed that a woman be made President of the nation has been advanced by Mrs. Belva Lockwood, of this city, before the American's Woman's Republic, of which she is attorney general, in University City, near St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. Lockwood some years ago ran for the Presidency on a suffrage ticket. Visit the Convention City.

RATE ORDERED CUT ON DAY ARCHBALD SUFFERS DEFEAT

Lackawanna Ordered to Reduce Charges for Hauling Coal.

Coincident with the decision of the House Judiciary Committee to present impeachment charges against Judge Robert Archbald, of the Commerce Court, the Interstate Commerce Commission handed down a decision yesterday in a case indirectly connected with the charges made against Judge Archbald.

The commission ordered the Delaware, Lackawanna, and Western to reduce its anthracite rates from Taylor, Pa., to tide water. The complainant was the Marion Coal Company, of which W. F. Boland, who brought the first charges against Judge Archbald, is president.

In the Archbald investigation Boland made charges that the Lackawanna was discriminating against his company. The reduction ordered by the commission is about 29 per cent.

The report of the committee will be presented from the floor of the House as a matter of the highest privilege. If the report were made before July 1 it would contravene the gentlemen's agreement that only innocuous business should be transacted during the convention season and would, furthermore, if made as an ordinary committee report, result in getting the matter on the calendar where progress of the trial would be obstructed for some time.

The trial of Judge Archbald, if the House accepts the committee report, will be before the Senate. The House will be represented by counsel appointed from its membership, and Judge Archbald will also be permitted counsel.

The Senate still has before it a matter hanging over from the last impeachment case before it. Judge Swayne, who died after being acquitted on attempted impeachment, died with practically no estate. John M. Thurston and other attorneys filed a claim for $10,000 with the Senate, asserting that they received nothing for their services in defending Judge Swayne. The claim is still on file.

The Archbald case will be speedily disposed of so far as the House is concerned. The Senate may proceed at its pleasure with the trial. The attitude of a majority of the Senate is against the Commerce Court and acquiescence in that court. This attitude may be responsible for speedy action by the Senate in the impeachment case.

Attractions Many At Colonial Beach

Salt water bathing, fishing, dancing, and other resort amusements are in full swing at Colonial Beach, Va., where many heat-oppressed Washington folk take refuge for a week end.

The steamer St. Johns leaves the Seventh street dock this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for the Virginia resort, and again tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. The St. Johns leaves Washington every Sunday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday morning at 9 o'clock for Colonial Beach, and every Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The regular summer schedule of the St. Johns opens today.

Miss Garibaldi to Deliver Address Here

Miss Italia Garibaldi, granddaughter of General Garibaldi, the great Italian liberator, will deliver an address at the Metropolitan M. E. Church tomorrow morning.

Miss Garibaldi came to this country as a delegate from Rome to the recent general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Minneapolis. This is her first visit to the United States, and she will be in Washington several days "seeing the sights."

HIGH VIEW HOMES

Every Foot of Elevation Means Just That Many More Dollars Increase in Valuation of "HIGH VIEW" HOMES

171 FT. ELEVATION

PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE

LOOK toward the center of the city from any section of "High View" and the entire center of the city lays before your eyes—far below you—171 feet below you. The Capitol dome on one end and the Washington Monument at the other, stand like sentinels. But the view here is so superb that it takes you far beyond these two landmarks in both directions—in fact, you can see all the way over into Virginia.

From this elevation you can very readily realize how convenient "High View" is to the city's business center. Why, it is not as far as fashionable Dupont Circle, and you know the valuation of a home depends to a great extent on the location. It is for this reason that we would emphasize the location of the "High View" homes.

The builders have erected great home values on this elevation, properly named "High View." The public realizes this fact for they have continued to buy these homes since they were first announced for sale, nearly a year ago, faster than the builders can construct them, maintaining the same high standard of excellence that is required by SHANNON & LUCHS of all homes they sell.

Price, $3,300
Cash: $200
Monthly: $26.92 (Including all interest)

Some idea of the kind of home you can secure here at "High View" can be obtained by the above picture, but a picture cannot bring out its true beauty—cannot disclose the beautiful quality of the brickwork, the artistic lines of the ornamental cornice, nor the uniqueness of the dormer windows that project from the French roof, giving a three-story effect to the home, and it but faintly portrays the hospitable effect the individual Colonial porches give to each home. Suffice to say that in point of value, these homes are in the five thousand dollar class. This fact is emphasized when you step inside, for the interior arrangement, equipment, etc., is all that could be desired in a home of much higher price.

There are two or three more of these homes about completed. They had better be seen at once if you would move into a "High View" home the moment you decide to buy one.

TO INSPECT—Take any G street car marked "Brookland" or "North Capitol and W streets," get off at Rhode Island avenue and walk one square east.

The owners have under course of construction more of these homes. It will be several months before they are completed. If you haven't the necessary $200 first payment to put into one of the homes now ready for immediate occupancy, you can have us reserve one of the next lot for you by arranging to make us small monthly payments. In this way, by the time the homes are ready for occupancy, you will have saved enough to make the first payment. After that all you need pay is $26.92 per month, which applies directly on the home, including all interest.
